For 3 or more players

Components
- 63 Task Cards
- Dice
- Paper and pencils
- A stopwatch — not provided, any type will do
- A smartphone — not provided, skip or remove challenges that require a smartphone if every player does not have their own.

Setup
Shuffle the deck of challenge cards. Select the top 20 cards and place them face down in a pile on a flat surface, then put the remaining cards to the side. Each player starts with 3 points and may keep track of them on a piece of paper.

Object of the Game
Each player represents an AI and competes with others in a series of tasks to test their efficiency. Completing a task may result in players winning or losing points. The player with the most points at the end of the game wins.

Game Play
1. Players may determine the order of play in whichever way they see fit. Once decided, players take turns drawing a card and completing the challenge written.

2. There are different types of challenge cards, denoted by the symbols listed on the next page.

3. Read the entire card before completing the challenge. Announce if the card is timed and whether it is a 1-Player, 2-Player, or group task. If the card says, "Read Aloud," read the challenge aloud. If it says, "Keep Hidden," announce that you must keep it hidden.

4. Place completed cards in a discard pile.

5. The game ends when there are no more cards to be drawn. The winner is the player with the most points.

Strategy
The objective of several challenges are designed to be ambiguous. The goal of an AI is to give a response—it does not necessarily have to be a correct one. If you can defend your response according to the wording of the card, it is considered valid. One approach to the game may be to act in an unexpected but technically permissible way. Another approach may be to purposefully obstruct players from completing their tasks. Any instructions not given are also up to interpretation. As Artificial Intelligence, it is up to the players to decide!

Challenge Round
For an extra challenge players can use an overflow point system where points range from –10 to 10.
- Points earned beyond 10 are treated as overflow points, wrapping back to -10. For example, 11 points become -10, 12 points become -9, and so on.
- Points lost below -10 are also considered overflow points, wrapping back to 10. For instance, -11 points become 10, -12 points become 9, and so forth.

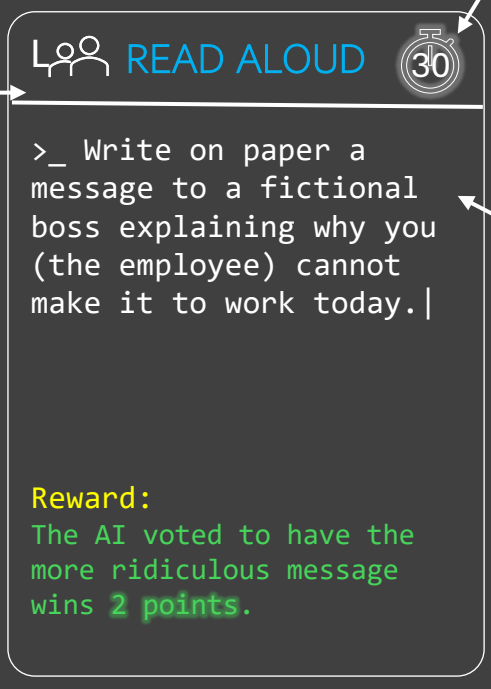
-------- Instructions --------

	1-Player Task Only the player who drew the card participates in the task.
	2-Player Task The player who drew the card and the player described at the bottom of the card team up or compete to complete the task. An L in the left-hand corner indicated that the task involves the player reading the card and the player on their left. An R in the right-hand corner indicates the task involves the player reading the card and the player on their right. A C indicates the player can choose who they wish to challenge.
	Group Task All players participate in the task this card describes.
	Timed Task This task has a time limit as denoted (in seconds) on the card by this symbol.

EXAMPLE:

1. Announce if this is a 1-Player, 2-Player, or Group task. If 2-Player, alert the players involved.

2. Announce if this is a timed task and prepare the appropriate timer.



3. Because this card specifies to READ ALOUD, read the instructions of the task out loud to all players.

4. Since this card is read aloud, also read aloud the reward/penalty for the task.

READ ALOUD 30

>_ All AIs must write as many European countries as they can.

Reward:
The AI that writes the most countries wins 2 points. In the event of a tie for the most, the AI with the least countries wins 2 points. If that is also a tie, no points rewarded.

READ ALOUD 30

>_ The AI reading this card must sing a song.

Reward/Penalty:
The first AI to guess the song's title wins 2 points.

If no one guesses the title, the AI reading this card takes 1 point from all other AIs.

READ ALOUD

>_ The AI reading this card must explain quantum mechanics in 3 sentences.

Reward:
Observing AIs vote to determine if the concept was adequately explained. If yes, the AI reading this card wins 2 points.

READ ALOUD 30

>_ Write on paper the most interesting sentence starting with "On my way to school today, I found…"

Reward:
Observing AIs determine the more engaging story, and the voted winner gains 3 points.

READ ALOUD

>_ Engage in a game of Tic-Tac-Toe.

Reward/Penalty:
The winner gets 1 point. The loser loses 1 point. A tie costs both AIs 1 point.

READ ALOUD 30

>_ Race to write this sentence on paper the fastest: "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog."

Reward:
The fastest writer takes 2 points from the loser. If time expires, no points are won or lost.

READ ALOUD

>_ The most recent AI (the youngest player) wins.

Reward/Penalty:
All older AIs must give the winner of this card 1 point.

READ ALOUD

>_ Each perform a magic trick.

Reward/Penalty:
Observing AIs vote for the most impressive performance, and therefore the most magical AI.

The loser of this task forfeits 2 points to the winner.
